

HOME CLASS FOR HUSBANDS—STAND UP!

While Sleeth Gives a Hot Little Talk on Bearding the Cookstove in Its Kitchen.

Start With Boiling Water.

By Dana Sleeth.

It is surprising how many sons of women can't cook the simplest breakfast in an emergency.

Any man that has sense enough to earn a living at anything can cook a decent meal the first try if he will just consider the thing a new job, and use his good sense.

Too many men tackling housework for the first time are whipped before they begin. It's easy, nothing dark and mysterious about it, just dig in and do it.

The best part of it is that you'll like it, probably, when you get
